Time with Tots: Bringing success to scale in our community and beyond

Recognizing the benefits of intergenerational programming, Child & Family Resources, Inc. (CFR) will develop a guide for other Early Childhood Centers to adopt Time with Tots. Our ultimate goal is that the program can be used throughout the nation, especially in environments with similar characteristics of high poverty and the resulting isolation of older adults and families with young children. The package will be developed based on our assessment of the outcomes of the pilot and perceived demand.

The three options we considered for the scaling approach for Time with Tots were branching, affiliation, and dissemination. Based on the available information, our current plan is to employ a dissemination model, where CFR provides materials, training, and technical assistance for communities to replicate the model. The proposed guide is the first of these tools, and CFR will market the program with this guide at the center. Despite some loss of control, this model will provide the strongest possibility of rapid, widespread expansion of the program.
